

Client - Server Architecture

In Client – Server Architecture Client send a request by http protocols and server receive a request and send a response back to Client by http method Called Client –Server Architecture.

Client -

Client usually on

Client is requester

Server –

Always on

Server is responder

